Hongwanji Temple at Kyoto, Japan-Crosses Takla Makan Sand in Thirty Years.

Tokio, Japan.-Rev Zuicho Tachbana, a priest of the great West Hongwanfi temple of Kyoto, furned to that place recently after five years spent in exploraion in the virgin parts of central Asia, writes a correspondent. His journey was undertaken for purposes of research under the instruction of Count Otant, the lord abbot of the Hongwanji temple and an enthusiastic geographer. Mr. Tachibana is young man of twenty-two years of ge and of such delicate physique that he natives said he must be a woman lisguised as a man.

Mr. Tachibana proceeded from Lon-don to Omsk and thence by stage Turban in Sinklang ("the new territory") passable roads were found.

During his explorations Mr. Tachlbana traveled across the Takla-Makan desert, which he describes as the

there is only the wind to hear and the moon to see. The party constantmet sand mountains over 12,000 feet high, and the men began to grumble, fearing that they would be buried by the constant sandstorms. On arriving at Goma, on the right bank of the River Tarim, he caused considerable fright among the sheperds, as his was the first party from the south for thirty years. At first he shepherds fled, but were brought back. The feat of crossing the desert aused greatest reverence by the

At this point he left the camel carn can to follow on slowly, while he pro-reeded on horseback to Kuchar, which place he reached after three lays. This is a large town, though not to be compared with civilized "Nevertheless," said Mr. l'achibana, "I felt on entering it as hough I had suddenly been put down in Piecadilly." Some time was spent in the neighsorhood of Kashgar investigating the buried cities, and afterward the exslorer proceeded through the valley east of Tzunling to Khotan, the districts previously explored by Dr. Stein (now Sir Marc Aurel Stein). Thence the party proceeded to Tibet for the purpose of geological ingestigation.

Several districts were visited by Mr. Tachibana which had been omitted by Dr. Sven Hedin, These regions are absolutely blank on the maps, and have never been visited before. As soon as the records of the jour ney have been collated the Hongwanji temple will issue a report on Ma Tachibana's exploration, which will without doubt be eagerly anticipated in scientific circles in Europe and America as well as in Asia.

BOSTON, MASS. BANKERS AND BROKERS.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 8.—The local market was strong again today. Large buying of North Butte was in evidence and the supply of stock was smaller than it had been previously. Its advance to 39% was rapid and there was only a fractional decline even in face of an unsatisfactory copper report. Granby was strong the stock advancing $4 and closing near the top. Copper Range, East Butte and Hancock also showed advances. The local market is getting broader every day and we expect continued activity with higher prices,
